

word "The," in the first line thereof, and closing with the word "charter," in the eighth line thereof, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The council shall have and possess, and the council and its members shall exercise all executive, legislative, and judicial powers and duties now had, possessed, and exercised by the mayor, city council, solicitor, assessor, treasurer, auditor, city engineer, and other executive and administrative officers in cities of the first and second class, and in cities under special charter, and shall also possess and exercise all executive, legislative, and judicial powers and duties now had and exercised by the board of public works, park commissioners, the board of police and fire commissioners, board of waterworks trustees, and board of library trustees in all cities wherein a board of public works, park commissioners, board of police and fire commissioners, board of waterworks trustees, and board of library trustees now exist or may be hereafter created."

Sec. 8. Repeal—department superintendents—officers and assistants: That section 1056a 26 of chapter 14c of the supplement to the code, 1907, be, and the same is hereby, repealed, and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The mayor shall be superintendent of the department of public affairs, and the council shall at the first regular meeting after election of its members designate by majority vote one councilman to be superintendent of the department of accounts and finances; one to be superintendent of the department of public safety; one to be superintendent of the department of street and public improvements; and one to be superintendent of the department of parks and public property: Provided, however, That in cities having a population of less than 25,000 there shall be designated to each councilman two of said departments. Such designation shall be changed whenever it appears that the public service would be benefited thereby. The council shall, at said first meeting, or as soon as practicable thereafter, elect by majority vote the following officers: A city clerk, solicitor, assessor, treasurer, auditor, civil engineer, city physician, marshal, chief of fire department, market master, street commissioner, three library trustees, and such other officers and assistants as shall be provided for by ordinance and necessary to the proper and efficient conduct of the affairs of the city: Provided, however, That in cities having a population of less than 25,000 such only of the above-named officers shall be appointed as may, in the judgment of the mayor and councilmen be necessary for the proper and efficient transaction of the affairs of the city. In those cities of the first class not having a superior court, the council shall appoint a police judge. In cities of the second class not having a superior court the mayor shall hold police court, as now provided by law. Any officer or assistant elected or appointed by the council may be removed from office at any time by vote of a majority of the members of the council, except as otherwise provided for in this act."

Sec. 9. Office in city hall—salaries: That section 1056a 28 of chapter 14c of the supplement to the code, 1907, be, and the same is hereby, amended by striking out all of said section beginning with the word "The," in the first line thereof, and ending with the figures and dollar mark "$3,000" in the third line from the top of page 214 as the same appears in the supplement to the code, 1907, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The mayor and councilmen shall have an office at the city hall, and their total compensation shall be as follows: In cities having by the last preceding State or national census a population of 7,000 and less than 10,000 the mayor's annual salary shall be $600 and each councilman $450. In cities having by such census a population of 10,000 and less than 15,000 the mayor's annual salary shall be $1,200 and each councilman $900. In cities having by such census a population of 15,000 and less than 25,000 the mayor's annual salary shall be $1,500 and each councilman $1,200. In cities having by such census a population of 25,000 and less than 40,000 the mayor's annual salary shall be $2,500 and each councilman $1,800. In cities having by such census a population of 40,000 and less than 60,000 the mayor's annual salary shall be $3,000 and each councilman $2,500; and in cities having by such census a population of 60,000 or more the mayor's annual salary shall be $3,500 and that of councilman $3,000."

Sec. 10. Civil service commissioners—terms. That section 1056a 32 of chapter 14c of the supplement to the code, 1907, be, and the same is hereby, amended by striking out the first two sentences thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"In cities having a population of 25,000 and over the council shall, and in cities having a population of 7,000 and less than 25,000 the council may, immediately after organizing, by ordinance, appoint three civil service commissioners, who shall hold office, one until the first Monday in April of the second year after his appointment, one until the first Monday in April of the fourth year after his appointment, and one until the first Monday in April of the sixth year after his appointment: Provided, however, That in all cases in which no civil service commissioners are appointed by the council, the council shall have the same powers and shall exercise and perform all the duties devolving upon such commissioners, as provided for in this act. In cities wherein civil service commissioners have been appointed under the provisions of this act each succeeding council shall, as soon as practicable after organizing, appoint one commissioner for six years, who shall take the place of the commissioner whose term of office expires."

Sec. 11. Abandonment of commission plan of government. That section 1056a 39 of chapter 14c of the supplement to the code, 1907, be, and the same is hereby, amended by striking out all of that portion of said section beginning with the word "Shall," in the ninth line thereof, and closing with the word "charter," in the twelfth line, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Shall the city of (name of city) abandon its organization under chapter 14c of the supplement of the code, 1907, as amended by the acts of the thirty-third general assembly, and become a city under the general law governing cities, or, if now organized under special charter, shall resume said special charter?"

Sec. 12. In effect: This act being deemed of immediate importance, shall take effect and be in full force from and after its publication in the Register and Leader and the Des Moines Capital, newspapers published at Des Moines, Iowa.

Approved, March 30, A. D. 1909.

I hereby certify that the foregoing act was published in the Register and Leader and Des Moines Capital April 1, A. D. 1909.

W. C. HAYWARD, Secretary of State.

Mr. CULLOM. I move that the Senate adjourn.

The motion was agreed to; and (at 2 o'clock and 20 minutes p. m.) the Senate adjourned until Thursday, April 13, 1911, at 12 o'clock m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, April 10, 1911.

The House met at 12 o'clock noon.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. Henry N. Couden, D. D.

The Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, April 6, was read and approved.

OATH OF OFFICE.

The oath of office was administered by the Speaker to Mr. McDERMOTT and Mr. SABATH, Representatives from the State of Illinois; Mr. HAUGEN and Mr. PICKETT, Representatives from the State of Iowa; Mr. LOUD and Mr. YOUNG, Representatives from the State of Michigan; Mr. TAYLOR, a Representative from the State of Ohio; Mr. GODWIN, a Representative from the State of North Carolina; and Mr. HOWARD, a Representative from the State of Georgia.

MINORITY EMPLOYEES.

Mr. DALZELL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Pennsylvania asks unanimous consent for present consideration of the resolution which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 34.

Resolved, That during the Sixty-second Congress, and until the organization of the Sixty-third Congress, Joseph G. Rogers, of Pennsylvania, be authorized to act as special employee of the House of Representatives, to receive compensation at the rate of $1,800 per annum; that Joseph C. Weir, of the State of Illinois, and John H. Hollingsworth, of the State of New York, be authorized to act as special employees and pair clerks, at a compensation of $1,800 per annum each; and that Bert W. Kennedy, of the State of Michigan, and Frank W. Collier, of the State of Wisconsin, be authorized to act as messengers, at a compensation of $1,500 each; and that A. W. Chaffee, of the State of Nebraska, be authorized to act as minority telephone operator, at a compensation of $1,200 per annum.

Said officers shall at all times be under control of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and they shall be subject to removal for cause at any time.

Mr. DALZELL. Mr. Speaker, this is a provision for the House employees conceded to the minority by the majority.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. DALZELL] yield to the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD]?

Mr. DALZELL. I do.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Pennsylvania if he has compared the list and if it is just exactly in accordance with what was conceded by the majority?

Mr. DALZELL. It is identical. I have compared it with the provision in the legislative bill.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. DALZELL] for unanimous consent?

Mr. CARLIN. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, I want to make an inquiry. In this list, do you not bring in one position that was formerly controlled by the Doorkeeper?

Mr. DALZELL. This appointment is made in the same way it has always been made in previous Congresses.

Mr. LLOYD. There is no attempt on the part of the minority to take any advantage of the majority. They are now simply seeking to obtain places for the minority side which have heretofore been held by the minority side, but which formerly was Democratic instead of Republican.

Mr. DALZELL. That is right.

Mr. BARTLETT. May I ask the gentleman a question?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Pennsylvania yield to the gentleman from Georgia?

Mr. DALZELL. I yield.

Mr. BARTLETT. If I understand it, the employees provided for in this resolution are similar to what were known as the Democratic employees nominated by the Democratic caucus and agreed to by the House.

Several MEMBERS. No; the Republican caucus.

Mr. BARTLETT. No; I think I am right. They are the same character of employees, so far as positions are concerned, that the Democratic caucus presented at the beginning of the Sixty-first Congress, and which were conceded to the minority by the majority on resolutions that theretofore had been offered. Is not that correct?

Mr. CARLIN. If the gentleman from Pennsylvania will permit me a moment, I think the gentleman from Georgia is mistaken in that. I understand that this position was originally filled by a gentleman named Blanchard, on the Democratic side, but subsequently the majority took the place and appointed to fill it a gentleman named Earle that we have never seen around here.

Mr. DALZELL. I think the gentleman is mistaken. I am satisfied that I am correct in the statement I made.

Mr. LLOYD. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Pennsylvania yield?

Mr. DALZELL. I yield.

Mr. LLOYD. Mr. Speaker, I think I can explain the matter about which the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. CARLIN] speaks. Mr. Blanchard did represent the majority, in charge of the telephone. Unfortunately—and I say unfortunately by intention—he has been removed, and that is the thing about which Mr. CARLIN complains.

Mr. CARLIN. Exactly.

Mr. LLOYD. But notwithstanding that, I think this House should act fairly with the minority, and this place belongs to the minority. I do not think that side of the House ought to be held responsible for the misconduct of one man.

Mr. CARLIN. I was just trying to get at the truth about it. I am in favor of the minority having all they are entitled to.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none. The question is on agreeing to the resolution of the gentleman from Pennsylvania.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

CERTAIN COMMITTEE EMPLOYEES.

Mr. CLARK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a privileged resolution, which I ask that the Clerk will read.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the resolution offered by the gentleman from Florida.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 35.

Resolved, That the following-named positions under the committees of the House as organized in the Sixty-first Congress are entirely unnecessary and useless, and that none of said positions as hereinafter named shall be continued or maintained or created during the Sixty-second Congress, viz: Assistant clerk and stenographer to the Ways and Means Committee, whose salary is $2,000 per annum; assistant clerk to Committee on Accounts, whose salary is $1,800 per annum; assistant clerk to Committee on Agriculture, whose salary is $1,800 per annum; assistant clerk to Committee on Claims, whose salary is $1,200 per annum; assistant clerk to the Committee on the District of Columbia, whose salary is $1,800 per annum; assistant clerk to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, whose salary is $1,800 per annum; assistant clerk to the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, whose salary is $1,500 per annum; assistant clerk to the Committee on Indian Affairs, whose salary is $1,800 per annum; stenographer to Committee on Invalid Pensions, whose salary is $2,100 per annum; stenographer to Committee on Invalid Pensions (for session), whose salary is $100 per month; assistant clerk to the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, whose salary is $1,200 per annum; clerk to continue digest of claims to Committee on War Claims, whose salary is $2,500 per annum; stenographer (for session) to Committee on War Claims, whose salary is $75 per month; assistant clerk to the Committee on Banking and Currency, whose salary is $1,200 per annum; assistant clerk to the Committee on Public Lands, whose salary is $1,200 per annum; session clerk to the Committee on Alcoholic Liquor Traffic, whose salary is $6 per day; session clerks, whose salaries are $125 per month each, for the following-named committees, viz: Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department, Committee on Expenditures in the War Department, Committee on Expenditures in the Navy Department, Committee on Expenditures in the Post Office Department, Committee on Expenditures in the Interior Department, Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Agriculture, Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Commerce and Labor, and the Committee on Expenditures on Public Buildings.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that this proposition is offered as a privileged motion?

The SPEAKER. Yes.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Then, Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order that the resolution is not privileged. It should go to the Committee on Accounts.

Mr. CLARK of Florida. On that, Mr. Speaker, I want to be heard.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will hear the gentleman from Florida on the point of order.

Mr. CLARK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, Rule IX of the rules recently adopted by this House, and which is an exact copy of Rule IX of the rules of the Sixty-first Congress, from which I read, provides:

Questions of privilege shall be, first, those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; second, the rights, reputation, and conduct of Members—

And so forth.

That rule has been construed by a number of Speakers of this House in past years, and, regardless of the opinion of the distinguished gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD], I assert that any resolution which affects the organization of the House is privileged by every recorded decision every time the question has been presented for decision.

For instance, in Hinds' Precedents, Volume I, section 189—which I do not contend is analogous to this particular case, because it refers to officers of the House, and I understand the difference between officers and employees—the Speaker held that a resolution that the House proceed to the election of an officer presents a question of privilege.

In Hinds' Precedents, Volume IV, section 4407, a resolution establishing certain select committees is held privileged. Why? Because it relates to the organization of the House. I have five volumes of Hinds' Precedents here, full of these decisions, and it has always been held, whenever a resolution was offered which related in any way to the organization of the House, that it was privileged under this rule.

And surely, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD], logician as he is, and parliamentarian without a peer perhaps, on this side of the House at least, will not contend that the selection of committee clerks, who are to be instrumentalities for carrying out the will of the House, is not a step relating to the organization of the House.

These clerks have not been selected. The House committees have not been selected. Therefore these employees can not be selected until the committees are chosen and until they meet and organize. Then they select their respective clerical forces.

I contend, Mr. Speaker, and there is abundant authority here for that, that at any time before the organization is perfected a resolution relating to that organization is absolutely privileged under the rules.

But the House has gone even further than that, Mr. Speaker. In Volume V of Hinds' Precedents, section 7273, a resolution assigning a room to a committee was held to present a question of privilege. Yet it is to be contended here that although the mere assignment of a committee room to a committee is privileged, when you come to select the agents who are to permit the committees to discharge their duties, and therefore carry out the will of the House, that that does not relate to the organization of the House. And the gentleman from Alabama will be driven to that position before the point of order can be sustained.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I have offered this resolution to the House, in line with the declared policy of the majority. I will not attempt to discuss the merits of it at this time. Gentlemen can examine these committees and find that they are loaded down with employees drawing immense salaries, when there is absolutely no more use for some of them than "a hog has use for a side pocket." [Applause.]

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I have not examined all the committees, to know whether the places that the gentleman from Florida desires to abolish are needed by the committees to do useful work. This side of the House has already agreed to cut the employees of this House to the amount of $180,000.

Mr. CLARK of Florida. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Alabama yield to the gentleman from Florida?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Certainly.

Mr. CLARK of Florida. I should like to ask the gentleman from Alabama if he thinks that the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, of which I am a member, which frames a bill once every two years, needs a clerk, an assistant clerk, and a janitor?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. I have just stated to the gentleman and to the House that I am not familiar with the workings of all these committees, and I am not advised as to whether that committee, and possibly others, have clerks that are not needed; but I do not think that a question of this kind should be disposed of by the House without proper investigation. It ought to go to a proper committee to consider it and report to the House, if it is to be considered at all. For that reason I have made the point of order that this is not a privileged matter. Now, I agree with the gentleman that one of the elective officers of this House, the Speaker himself, for instance, may be removed from office upon motion, and that would be a privileged motion; but some of these places that the gentleman names in his resolution are session clerks, not yet provided for at all. Others are clerks of committees, that are appointed by the chairmen of those committees, discharged by the chairmen, and are statutory places. Other places are not—

Mr. CLARK of Florida. Will the gentleman permit one question right there?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Alabama yield to the gentleman from Florida?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Certainly.

Mr. CLARK of Florida. Does the gentleman mean to say that the assistant clerks are provided for by statute?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. I do not know whether all of them named in the resolution are provided for by statute or not, because I have not had an opportunity to read the resolution, but I know that many are.

Mr. CLARK of Florida. Will the gentleman name one assistant clerk provided for by statute that is named in the resolution?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. The assistant clerk to the Committee on Ways and Means is provided for by statute and carried under the general appropriation.

Mr. CLARK of Florida. Is it not true that this resolution abolishes only one assistant clerk and leaves a clerk and an assistant clerk for your committee, and that this is a minor assistant clerk?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. As I understand, all of the clerks of that committee are provided for by statute, and their pay does not come out of the contingent fund of the House. I understand that they hold a statutory place; and as to the necessity for these committee clerks, I will say to the gentleman from Florida that not only are the men that are provided for by statute for the Ways and Means Committee working every day, but there is an additional force endeavoring to prepare the legislation that this House is demanding to-day. [Applause.]

Mr. CLARK of Florida. If the gentleman will permit, the gentleman is now discussing the merits of the resolution, which I scrupulously avoided. I am ready to meet that issue when the time comes.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. The gentleman started the discussion on the merits of the question, but I recognize that it is not in order. I simply say that this is not a privileged question. I do not deny the right of this House as a privileged matter to remove one of the elective officers of this House or to remove a committee of this House, but I say that these places are established by statute, that the salary runs unless we abolish them by statute, that they are not designated by this House, but are designated by the chairmen of the committees, and therefore I say that a resolution of this kind should be referred to the appropriate committee in the House for consideration, to report it back in the regular order, and is not a privileged matter to be considered at this time.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is sustained and the resolution is referred to the Committee on Accounts.

CLALLAM TRIBE OF INDIANS.

Mr. HUMPHREY of Washington. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to print in the Record a letter and a petition signed by the Clallam Tribe of Indians of the State of Washington.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Washington asks unanimous consent to print in the Record the papers which he holds in his hand.

Mr. HUMPHREY of Washington. I do not ask to have them read. It is a letter that I have received from an Indian, a member of the Clallam Tribe, and a petition signed by the men of that tribe in regard to the way they have been treated by the United States Government. In other words, in 1855 this Government entered into a treaty with the Indians which they claim the Government has not kept. This letter and the petition are from the Indians themselves, and are brief, and I think they contain information which the House ought to have.

Mr. MANN. I suggest to the gentleman from Washington that he ask permission to extend his remarks in the Record and then print the letter and petition. It has not been the custom to grant permission to have petitions printed in the Record.

Mr. HUMPHREY of Washington. Then, Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to extend my remarks in the Record.

Mr. MURDOCK. What purpose will it serve to print this petition and letter in the Record?

Mr. HUMPHREY of Washington. It will serve the purpose of furnishing information to the House. This Clallam Tribe of Indians claim that the treaty with them has not been kept by the Government; that it took all their land, and that they have received nothing in return. I think it ought to go into the Record.

Mr. STEPHENS of Texas rose.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Washington yield to the gentleman from Texas?

Mr. HUMPHREY of Washington. Certainly.

Mr. STEPHENS of Texas. As I understand, this is a memorial from an individual touching Indian property.

Mr. HUMPHREY of Washington. No; it is a brief statement by one Indian and a memorial signed by the members of the tribe.

Mr. STEPHENS of Texas. Has the gentleman the memorial to present with the letter?

Mr. HUMPHREY of Washington. Yes.

Mr. STEPHENS of Texas. Then I have no objection.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Washington to extend his remarks in the Record? There was no objection.

The matter referred to is as follows:

UNION, WASH., December 22, 1910.

Hon. W. E. HUMPHREY, M. C.,
Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: I am sending you a petition signed by Indians of the Clallam Tribe. They are a remnant of a once large and powerful tribe occupying lands on the American side of the straits as far as the lands occupied by the Makah or Neah Bay Indians. They do not now number much more than 200 souls, adults, children, and all. About half of these Indians have purchased a small tract of land near Dungeness, Jefferson County, upon which they have a small village. The Government maintains a day school in this village. But they find these small tracts of land not large enough to make a living on, so they are compelled at times to leave and go where they could earn their living in other lines of work. The other half make their homes in Port Gamble, Kitsap County, on a sand spit owned by the Puget Mill Co. The Government also maintained a day school in this village up to July 1, 1910, when it was abolished for no apparent reason, but an injustice, as there are about 25 children in the village. The Indians' rights to live on land owned by the mill company rests entirely with the company. In the event of a change of management of the company's affairs, and in case a new management is opposed to the Indians living on their lands and orders them to vacate the premises, where would they go? They would be practically homeless.

I am an Indian also, belonging to the Skokomish Tribe. I was in the Government Indian service since September, 1902, as teacher. On December 1, 1909, I was transferred from the Skokomish day school to the Port Gamble day school, which I taught till June 30, 1910. This school was then abolished and I was transferred to Fort Peck Reservation, Mont. I declined the transfer and resigned. It was while I was in charge of the Port Gamble school that I saw the efforts of these Indians to acquire lands upon which they could build homes of their own. But the price of land is much more than their slender means could meet. I believe that arrangements could be made with the Puget Mill Co. for a piece of logged-off land on the water front, as these Indians are a part of the laboring population of Port Gamble, and do all their trading there. I would be glad to furnish any information in the matter, and I join with the petitioners in begging you, in the name of humanity and justice, to do something for this people, once the proud possessors of all the lands now occupied by white citizens who have become prosperous and independent.

Very respectfully,

ANDREW P. PETERSON.

PORT GAMBLE, WASH., December, 1910.

Hon. W. E. HUMPHREY, M. C.,
Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: On January 26, 1855, a treaty was signed by Gov. Isaac I. Stevens, representing the United States, and the chiefs and headmen of the Clallam, Skokomish, and Chemikum Tribes of Indians, in which these Indians ceded to the United States vast tracts of lands.

The Clallam Indians, in common with the other tribes of Indians, relinquished all their right, title, and interest in the lands occupied by them.

In consideration of the cession, the United States agreed to pay to the said tribes the sum of $60,000. Also the sum of $6,000 to be used in paying the expenses of the Indians to remove to the reservation, the said reservation being set aside by order of Executive, dated February 25, 1874, and containing 6 sections of land, situated in the Skokomish Valley, State of Washington (then Territory of Washington), County of Mason.

According to the treaty aforesaid, this reservation was to be occupied by the tribes mentioned in the treaty.

Now, we, your petitioners, are members of the Clallam Tribe. Our chiefs and headmen were signers of the treaty of Point No Point. We respectfully beg to state that since conveying to the United States all our rights and interests in and to the lands which our fathers and forefathers have occupied for countless generations we have not in manner molested the settlers to whom the United States gave these lands; we have kept our part of the treaty faithfully and have always lived on friendly terms with the white people.

Of the $60,000 which the United States promised to pay for our lands, all that we remember to have received were a few blankets, a few farming implements, and we can not say where or to whom the money was paid.

No one ever offered us a dollar of the $6,000 which was provided by the treaty to pay for our removal to the reservation.

When the 6 sections of land were reserved for our use in common with the other tribes, the Skokomish Tribe, in whose land the reserve was made, was given the prior rights to take up lands, and when each adult and head of a family had been allotted there was no land left for the Clallam Tribe. Consequently, we have never been allotted lands under the treaty.

A few of our tribe have purchased small tracts of land, upon which they have built homes, but they can not depend upon these little tracts for a living, as they are wholly inadequate.

We are desirous of building permanent homes for ourselves and our children on lands which we can call our own.

For this reason we are addressing you this and trespassing upon your valuable time.

We beg that you will, in any manner in which you see fit and in accordance with our treaty, secure lands for the Clallam Tribe of Indians.

We acknowledge our dependence on the Government of the United States, and we ask the Government protection in our rights, and we feel sure that when the facts are fully investigated we will be accorded our rights.

Your espousal of our cause will win our lasting gratitude.

Very respectfully submitted,

Robert Collier, John (his x sign) Cook, Wm. (his x sign) Newton, Wm. (his x sign) Williams, Jesse Cook, Richard Wood, John Allen, Wm. Allen, Wm. Hall, Wilson Johnson, Harvey Hall, Jimmie Dick, Charlie (his x mark) Lewis, Fred Hall, Jacob Hall, Dan Wood, David Hunter, Joseph Allen, George D. Howell, Joe Anderson, Harry Fulton, Wm. George, Jacob Jones, H. Lamen, Peter Jackson, Geo. Sparks, Thomas Charles, Jas. (his x mark) Henry, Wm. Henry, Eddie George, Newton M. Pulsifer, Chas. Jackson, George (his x mark) Adams, Tom (his x mark) Mitchell, Skookune (his x mark) John, Sammy Charles.

ADDITIONAL DELEGATES, COMMITTEES ON TERRITORIES AND PUBLIC LANDS.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, the rules provide that there shall be an additional Delegate on the Committee on Public Lands and two Delegates as additional members on the Committee on Territories. I ask unanimous consent that there may be elected as additional members to the Committee on Public Lands two Delegates instead of one, and four Delegates in place of two to the Committee on Territories. Of course it is known that these Delegates do not vote in the committees.

Mr. GARRETT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. MANN. Certainly.

Mr. GARRETT. I do not understand what the request of the gentleman is, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, the rules of this House and of the last House provided that as additional members there might be appointed two Delegates to the Committee on Territories. It has been the custom heretofore, by unanimous consent, to appoint all of the Delegates on the Committee on Territories, and I desire to have that done again.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. If the gentleman from Illinois will yield, I will state that in the last Congress the Delegates were put on these committees by unanimous consent. They have no vote in the committee and can not disturb the equilibrium of the committee. These committees are places where they naturally desire to be in order to keep up with the business of their Territories. I can see no objection whatever to the request of the gentleman from Illinois being granted.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Illinois asks unanimous consent that the number of Delegates on the Committee on Public Lands be increased from one to two and on the Committee on Territories from two to four. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none, and it is so ordered.

ASSIGNMENT OF ROOMS IN THE CAPITOL.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following as a privileged resolution and move its adoption.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 33.

Resolved, That the following assignments of rooms in the Capitol and House Office Building be, and the same are hereby, made:

1. To the Committee on Pensions, rooms 222 and 223 in the House Office Building.
2. To the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Commerce and Labor, the room in the House Office Building heretofore assigned to the Committee on Ventilation and Acoustics.
3. To the Committee on Mines and Mining, the rooms in the House Office Building heretofore assigned to the Committee on Militia, Nos. 289 and 289-A.
4. To the Committee on Rules, as additional space, the room in the Capitol Building heretofore occupied by the Committee on Pacific Railroads.
5. To the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department, the room in the Capitol Building heretofore assigned to the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization and the room heretofore assigned to the Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department.
6. To the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, two of the rooms in the House Office Building heretofore assigned to the Committee on the Judiciary, being room No. 483, and the committee room adjacent thereto.
7. To the Committee on the Judiciary, the room in the House Office Building, No. 379, and the hearing room adjacent thereto.
8. To the Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department, the room on the gallery floor, No. 49, in the Capitol Building, heretofore assigned to the Committee on Pensions, and the room heretofore assigned to the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department.
9. To the minority conference, as additional space, room on the principal floor, No. 5, heretofore assigned to the Committee on Pensions, and the room on the ground floor, No. 5, heretofore assigned to the Committee on Private Land Claims.
10. That the caucus room in the House Office Building be assigned for general hearing room for committees.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the point of order on the resolution as to its being privileged.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I find there is a typographical error in paragraph 1. It should be rooms 221 and 223, and I ask unanimous consent that the resolution be modified in that respect.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the modification of the resolution as suggested by the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

Mr. MANN. Without affecting the point of order?

The SPEAKER. Certainly, without affecting the point of order. [After a pause.] The Chair hears none, and it is so ordered.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, there can be no doubt that the resolution is in order as a privileged resolution.

Mr. MANN. Let us first refer to the resolution. I would ask the gentleman if he will yield?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman yield?

Mr. PALMER. Certainly.

Mr. MANN. I thought, as I heard the resolution read, that there was some discrepancy in reference to the assignment of the rooms formerly occupied by the Committee on Pensions.

Mr. PALMER. I think not. The understanding is that the minority shall have the room on this floor heretofore occupied by the Committee on Pensions, and, in addition to that, the committee room immediately under that, the room heretofore occupied by the Committee on Private Land Claims.

Mr. MANN. I would like to inform the gentleman that the minority already has the room formerly occupied by the Committee on Pensions on this floor.

Mr. PALMER. I understand that.

Mr. MANN. And it is not necessary to carry that in this resolution.

Mr. PALMER. It was only to put it all in one basket, put it all on record in one place, that we put it in this resolution. I understood, in my conference with the gentleman from Illinois, that that is all the minority desired. Now, as to the other pension room, I refer to the room which is marked in the diagram in the Congressional Directory as room 49 on the gallery floor, immediately over the room of the Committee on Naval Affairs, and adjoining the room of the Committee on Pacific Railroads. The resolution transfers the room of the Committee on Pacific Railroads to the Committee on Rules, and gives the adjoining room to the Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department, together with the small inside room across the hall, which becomes vacant.

Mr. MANN. To that part of it I have no objection, of course. The two rooms—the Committee on Invalid Pensions and the Committee on Pensions—were formerly assigned in the last House to the Committee on Pensions. Where does the gentleman get the numbering of the rooms in the Capitol?

Mr. PALMER. I took that from the Congressional Directory map. I do not know whether it is official, or anything of the sort, but it is shown upon the diagram as printed in the Congressional Directory. Now, Mr. Speaker—

Mr. CARLIN. May I ask the gentleman a question? Does it change the Judiciary Committee rooms?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Pennsylvania yield to the gentleman from Virginia?

Mr. PALMER. The gentleman from Illinois had not concluded his questions, I think.

Mr. MANN. In this number 9 you say the minority conference has additional space. What you intend there is that they are assigned both of these rooms, and that is all the space they have.

Mr. PALMER. I was under the impression that the minority conference had use of some space in the House Office Building.

Mr. MANN. They have not.

Mr. PALMER. There is a minority room—

Mr. MANN. A minority room, that is true.

Mr. PALMER. That is an explanation of it.

Mr. MANN. Now, I want to ask the gentleman further in reference to the assignment of the Committee on the Judiciary. The large room over there, diagonally across the building from the Committee on Ways and Means, and similar to the room of the Committee on Ways and Means, was by order of the Sixtieth Congress reserved as a special committee room, with the design of permitting any of the committees of the House which have to have hearings to have hearings in that committee room when they had a large number of people. I notice now the proposition is that the Committee on the Judiciary is assigned the large caucus room for hearings. It is quite certain that the caucus room will not be suited for hearings. The room you now propose to assign to the Committee on the Judiciary will not be suited to the Committee on the Judiciary for ordinary business. My committee had hearings in the room, and I can assure the gentlemen on the Committee on the Judiciary that if they take that room and only one other room, and intend to have all their hearings in that room, or rather, all the meetings in that room, they will not find it very satisfactory. The caucus room will never be suited for a hearing room, in my judgment.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the way that has come about is this: The Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, by reason of the desire to accommodate the convenience of the chairman, who was anxious to remain in the Capitol Building, has been occupying a very small room in the Capitol Building. Their hearings are numerous, I understand, and the attendance at the hearings is considerable, and the prospective chairman of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, desirous of getting larger quarters—and, in my judgment, they are entitled to larger quarters—

Mr. MANN. I agree with the gentleman in that respect.

Mr. PALMER (continuing). Asked for committee rooms 153 and 154, in the House Office Building. Those rooms have been used ever since the erection of the House Office Building for the use of special committees, and it is important that they should be retained for that purpose. The problem with us was where to put the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization. I want to further explain that the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, being a large committee and having necessarily large hearings, after they found they could not get Nos. 153 and 154, wanted the rooms of the Committee on Militia, which has been abolished. It was impossible to give them those rooms, because of the conflicting necessities of other committees, and the Committee on the Judiciary, having been increased in size, is now too large to occupy the committee room in its present suite, and the prospective chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary states that the so-called hearing room, to which the gentleman from Illinois has referred as being diagonally across the building from the Committee on Ways and Means, was originally designed for the occupancy of the Committee on the Judiciary, and that it was actually occupied by the Committee on the Judiciary for a brief period, with the name of the committee put over its doors, but that Judge Jenkins, who was then the chairman of the committee, refused to move into it, and it was finally put upstairs in the other quarters.

The chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary says that he will give up the three rooms to which he is now entitled and take only the two, if he can have the one large hearing room. Further than that, the superintendent of the House Office Building says that the hearing room has been inadequate for the purposes of public hearings; that upon three or four occasions during the Sixty-first Congress the attendance was so large that it overflowed into the hall, notably during the hearings of the Industrial Arts and Expositions Committee on the question of a site for the holding of the Panama Exposition, and one or two other hearings which I have forgotten. He says that the caucus room, without any expense, can be fitted up for a hearing room, which will be fully adequate to supply the needs of any committee in the House which must have a large general hearing space. I think, and I will say that I puzzled over this thing for a couple of days at the request of these various chairmen in an attempt to act as a clearing house and to get all desires and necessities satisfied, that the arrangement which we have worked out is the only feasible, if not the only possible, solution of the problem.

Mr. CARLIN. I would like to ask the gentleman a question.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. PALMER] yield to the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. CARLIN]?

Mr. PALMER. I do.

Mr. CARLIN. What becomes of the rooms now occupied by the Judiciary Committee?

Mr. PALMER. They go to the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization—two of them.

Mr. CARLIN. What becomes of the other room?

Mr. PALMER. It is an office room.

Mr. CARLIN. Now, I wanted to ask the gentleman by what authority this resolution is reported here? Who has the authority to make this distribution of rooms?

Mr. PALMER. I do not know that anybody has any particular authority over the question. It is a privileged matter, which any gentleman may call up on the floor of the House, but I will state to the gentleman with all frankness how I came to do this work. The prospective chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means was being asked, as the floor leader on this side, by the chairmen of the various committees to assign different quarters to them, assuming that, while no particular person had the jurisdiction, he, as the leader, might be willing to assume it.

The gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD] is a reasonably busy man, and has upon his committee a few young, live, healthy fellows whom he thinks he can work, and he asked me to take the work off his shoulders, and I am simply doing it as a favor to the gentleman from Alabama, who was asked by a number of other Members to work this thing out. I do not want to assume any jurisdiction in the matter.

Mr. CARLIN. That is exactly what the gentleman is doing.

Mr. PALMER. The gentleman from Virginia can offer a resolution if he desires.

Mr. CARLIN. I understand what my privileges are, but I am trying to get at whose duty it is to assign these rooms, and whether the Ways and Means Committee are assuming to do things which they have nothing to do with.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, this is not—

Mr. CARLIN. I want to call the gentleman's attention to this fact, that there is a commission authorized by law which has heretofore exercised this authority.

Mr. PALMER. Well, Mr. Speaker, I will say in answer to that—

Mr. FITZGERALD. I think the gentleman is mistaken.

Mr. PALMER (continuing). That the law is this: That as to vacant, unassigned rooms in the Capitol the Speaker has jurisdiction and may assign any committee to any vacant room in the Capitol that he desires. As to rooms that are occupied, the proper practice is for a resolution of the House to be passed covering the question. And I will say that this is a matter that somebody has had to assume jurisdiction of always. I think it is a fact that the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN] in recent Congresses, without having any more authority in the premises than any other Member in the House, but being an extremely willing worker, took upon himself the job of satisfying the various and conflicting requirements of committee-room assignments.

Mr. CARLIN. And the gentleman now has taken the job of the gentleman from Illinois upon himself?

Mr. PALMER. No; I have explained to the gentleman from Virginia why I introduced the resolution.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. To whom does the gentleman from Pennsylvania yield?

Mr. PALMER. I yield to the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. CARLIN].

Mr. CARLIN. I was going to say this, that I have no earthly objection to somebody doing this work.

Mr. PALMER. The gentleman seems to have.

Mr. CARLIN. I think it ought to be done, but I do not want to consume the time of this valuable Ways and Means Committee, appointed here for a specific purpose, namely, revising the tariff, with looking after matters of patronage, reducing charwomen and expenses, and now assigning offices, when they have more important work to do.

Mr. PALMER. Well, I will say to the gentleman from Virginia that the valuable time of the Committee on Ways and Means has not been taken up more than about a minute by this resolution, and the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means can not prevent Members of the House from coming to him and asking him to do this thing.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. If the gentleman from Pennsylvania will yield a moment, Mr. Speaker, I will say this, that a number of gentlemen on this side of the House found out that their committee rooms were unsatisfactory and that they were old rooms, and that there was an opportunity to move into better rooms, and they wanted to make changes. The gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN] desired to make some changes with reference to the minority room. They came to me and asked me to do it, and I had so many things on my hands to attend to that I did not have the time to attend to it. It was not the Ways and Means Committee that took the matter up. I asked the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. PALMER] to take the matter off of my hands and see the gentleman from Illinois, and to see the gentlemen on this side who wanted to change their rooms, and to report the matter to this House, so that the House could dispose of it, and so that our colleagues could be satisfied in reference to their rooms. Somebody had to do it.

Mr. CARLIN. The gentleman understands that he had no more to do with that than any other individual Member of the House?

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Certainly not; but some individual Member of the House had the right to do it.

Mr. CARLIN. The House had the right to do it.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Virginia will permit, I will say that the committee of which I am to be the chairman had considerable trouble about sufficient space, and we found out that somebody had to take hold of the matter and work out a solution of the conflicts between gentlemen and committees. Accordingly, we called upon the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. PALMER] and the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD] and asked them if they could help us out.

Mr. CARLIN. It seems to me it is becoming the habit of Members to call on them for everything that is done around here.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. They have been doing so well what they have done and what has been intrusted to them to do that I think we do well in going to them.

Mr. CARLIN. The gentleman is perfectly satisfied, apparently, because he has got what he wanted.

Mr. HENRY of Texas. I got one small additional room.

Mr. CARLIN. But the gentleman concedes that he did get an additional room. I simply wanted to ascertain the authority by which we are doing this. It may be that I may want to change my room hereafter, and in that case I shall want to know how to go about it and who to go to.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. I can assure the gentleman that there is no jurisdiction given to any committee of this House to attend to this matter, and the only place that the gentleman can go to is this House; and the gentleman from Pennsylvania, representing a number of his colleagues, has brought the matter to the floor of the House, the only place to which it can go.

Mr. CARLIN. I do not object.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. PALMER] yield to the gentleman from Illinois?

Mr. PALMER. I yield.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make an additional statement in reference to this matter, partly in justice to the gentleman from Pennsylvania and to the gentleman from Alabama. At the beginning of the Sixtieth Congress, four years ago, when Congress met—of course, later in the year—the House Office Building was approaching completion, and there was no method then devised for assigning rooms. I offered a resolution for the appointment of a special committee, and I was afterwards made chairman of that special committee, consisting of six members. We made the recommendations to the House for the assignment of committee rooms both in the House Office Building and in the Capitol. As chairman of that committee I continued in operation until the end of the Sixtieth Congress. There was no committee appointed in the last Congress. But gentlemen of the House, chairmen of committees, and others who desired changes of committee rooms, came to me, there seeming to be no special provision in the rules for the reference of such a matter to a committee, and the result was that during the last Congress, on several occasions, I asked unanimous consent for the consideration of resolutions reassigning or making assignments of rooms. Gentlemen on that side of the House became so in the habit of coming to me about assignments of rooms that when the majority was transferred, and the responsibility and control with it, a number of the prospective chairmen of committees, both at the end of the last session of Congress and since that time, have appealed to me in reference to the assignment of rooms. It did not seem to me that it was the duty of any Member on this side of the House to arrogate to himself the duty of offering a resolution on the subject.

Therefore I asked the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. UNDERWOOD], the floor leader on that side of the House, if he would not take up the matter of the assignment of rooms, so that gentlemen who came to me might be referred by me to him, and other gentlemen might go to him. I understand that he referred the matter to the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. PALMER], who now has the floor, and the gentleman from Pennsylvania did me the courtesy to come to me and discuss the matter with me.

When we made the original assignment of rooms to the Committee on Mines and Mining, the chairman, then being Mr. Huff, of Pennsylvania, was exceedingly anxious to remain in the Capitol Building in the room he then occupied. I objected to it for a long time, because the room was not sufficient, but finally we let him have his way. The same was true of one or two other committees, which ought to be transferred to the House Office Building. That was true of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, which had one little room, a very desirable room, except that it was very small, having a west front, in the old library part of the Capitol.

So far as I am concerned, I shall make no objection to the assignment of the room now proposed, after the statement of the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. PALMER] that the Superintendent of the Capitol, Mr. Woods, or his force, state that the caucus room can be made amply sufficient for committee meetings, and put in such shape that people can be heard in it without difficulty.

Mr. PALMER. I will say to the gentleman that that statement was made by Mr. Woolley.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Woolley, of course, is the representative of Mr. Woods in charge of the House Office Building. I have considerable doubt about it, although it may be that by putting up a large number of hangings in the room they can reduce the reverberations so that a small number of people can be heard. Even in the general committee room over there now, when only a few Members are present, it is very difficult to be heard, on account of the echo, although we have hangings up.

I suggest to the gentleman, who offers his resolution as a privileged one, that I hope there will be no objection to its passage by unanimous consent. I do not think it is a privileged resolution, and I do not think it wise to endeavor to establish the precedent that it is a privileged resolution, so that any Member at any time can take the floor to offer a privileged resolution, using it possibly for obstructive purposes, if not for the purpose of obtaining a change of room. I hope that, if there be no objection to the resolution, the gentleman will ask unanimous consent for its consideration.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I will say in reply to the statement of the gentleman from Illinois that there is no difficulty about making the precedent, because the precedent has already been made. Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, presented a similar resolution many years ago, and the Speaker held it to be privileged.

Mr. MANN. Yes.

Mr. PALMER. But in view of what the gentleman from Illinois has just stated I am perfectly willing to prefer the request in that way, and I therefore ask unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution which has been reported.

Mr. MANN. In view of the statement of the gentleman I hope he will yield to me to make this statement—

Mr. PALMER. Why, certainly.

Mr. MANN. When I was looking after this matter I went over the subject as carefully as I could with the then parliamentarian of the House and with others, and while I do not remember the opinion of Mr. HINDS, now the distinguished Member from Maine, my own impression was that it was not a privileged resolution, notwithstanding the precedent that the gentleman refers to, which I hope will not be followed.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. PALMER] asks unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution which has been under discussion. Is there objection?

There was no objection.

The question being taken, the resolution was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, a motion to reconsider the vote whereby the resolution was agreed to was laid on the table.

ASSIGNMENT OF ROOM FOR COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Mr. SULZER. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution and ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That the room in the Capitol now temporarily occupied by the Journal clerk be, and the same hereby is, assigned to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and that the Journal clerk be, and he hereby is, assigned to the room in the Capitol prepared for him by the Superintendent of the Capitol.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, I want to say that there is no room temporarily occupied by the Journal clerk; it is permanently occupied by him. The file room has been moved to the one adjoining the Journal clerk's room.

Mr. MANN. I hope the gentleman from New York will not ask for the consideration of this resolution at the present time, but will call it up later after we have had time to look into it.

Mr. SULZER. Mr. Speaker, I will say to the gentleman from Illinois and the gentleman from New York that the room now occupied by the Journal clerk adjoins and belongs to the Committee on Foreign Affairs—

Mr. MANN. It never has, never was, and never did.

Mr. SULZER. And the Journal clerk, I am informed, is only occupying it temporarily.

Mr. MANN. The gentleman from New York is mistaken. I made the assignment.

Mr. SULZER. The Superintendent of the Capitol will assign the Journal clerk a suitable room.

Mr. MANN. But we are all interested in the room for the Journal clerk. Every Representative has to go there. It is now in connection with the file room, and the two rooms ought to be together. It is a matter of convenience. I hope the gentleman will postpone the consideration of his resolution until we can ascertain about it.

Mr. SULZER. Mr. Speaker, in view of what has been said, I will withdraw the resolution until gentlemen can inform themselves about it.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

A message, in writing, from the President of the United States was communicated to the House of Representatives by Mr. Latta, one of his secretaries.

HOMESTEAD GRANTS IN THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

The Speaker laid before the House the following message from the President of the United States (H. Doc. No. 8), which was read, ordered to be printed, and referred to the Committee on Insular Affairs:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

As required by section 13 of the act of Congress approved July 1, 1902, entitled "An act temporarily to provide for the administration of the affairs of civil government in the Philippine Islands, and for other purposes," I submit herewith an act of the Philippine Legislature amending the public-land laws of the Philippine Islands by specifying the officials before whom the final evidence to perfect homestead grants may be taken. The law as it stands requires applicants for homesteads to furnish certain affidavits, but does not indicate the officials before whom they may be executed.

The amendment seems essential to a proper understanding by homesteaders as to what is required of them. I have therefore approved the act, in accordance with the provisions of section 13 of the act of Congress above mentioned.

WM. H. TAFT.

— THE WHITE HOUSE, April 10, 1911.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say to the House that the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN] this morning presented me with a list of the minority members of the committees. That list, with that of the majority members, has gone to the Printing Office to be printed. It will not be available for action to-day, but I will move the election of the committees to-morrow morning as soon as the House meets. I now move that the House adjourn.
